COMMITTEE GIVEN ORDERS TO REPORT ON WOODWARD BILL

HOST OF "FERGUSONISM" PARADE FOR FIRST TIME THIS SESSION

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 27.—Bitter feeling was apparent for the first time this session in the Senate today when the body ordered the committee on criminal jurisdiction to report by Wednesday on a bill by Woodward of Coleman.

Members who favored compelling the committee to make a report stamped an "damnable" the practice of committees in "arbitrarily smothering" bills in their sessions without giving the Senate an opportunity to act.

The ghost of "Fergusonism" which previously had not entered to disrupt the Senate, was paraded.

Woodward's bill, which seeks to repeal the rule of evidence and virtually nullifies the search and seizure act, must be reported on by the committee on criminal jurisdiction by Wednesday under the voted order of the Senate.

Many maneuvers to defeat the order failed in roll call after roll call on proposed amendments and substitutions.

The row started when Woodward introduced a motion to take the bill to repeat the rule of evidence from the committee, because, he said, a majority of the committee had "smothered" it.

Wirtz of Seguin, one of the committee members who had voted to postpone action on the bill until the "first Monday in March," injected the "Ferguson" issue when he took exception to Woodward's remarks. Wirtz is known to oppose the proposed repeal of the amnesty act, enacted during the Ferguson administration.

Action on Love's bill to repeat the amnesty act, probably will not be taken until Senator Hall and others who are absent return to the Senate, Love said.

House Fails Back Farm Bill.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 27.—The House today by a vote that shook the ceiling, voted not to urge the passage of the Haugen-McNary bill. The vote was 36 to 2.

Only two "aye" votes were heard and one of them was halfhearted.

TRAGEDY OCCURS DURING BASKETBALL CONTEST IN IDAHO

SOMEONE LIGHTS MATCH AFTER GAS LIGHTS FAIL IN FRAME BUILDING

By Associated Press.

Turner, Idaho, Jan. 27.—The death toll following an explosion in the community hall here last night was increased to seven today when a third son of James T. McCann, janitor at the hall, died from burns and shock.

By Associated Press.

Turner, Idaho, Jan. 27.—A match and an inquisitive investigator seeking the cause of a mysterious gas leak, last night caused the death of six persons and the serious injury of probably more than a dozen spectators who had gathered to witness a basketball game between the Turner team, and a team from Central, Idaho.

Estimates are that between 200 to 300 persons from the two communities had gathered to witness the game, which was played in a one story, frame building used by the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) congregation as a church and recreational hall.

During the progress of the game the acetylene gas lighting system failed and the hall was plunged into darkness. James McCann, janitor of the building, one of the dead, went to investigate. Some one whose identity has not been established, lit a match. Instantly there was a blinding flash, and, as nearly as can be learned, from the confused and stunned witnesses, the walls at the rear of the building collapsed, dropping the plaster ceiling upon the crowd.

There was a rush for the single exit at the front of the hall and the greater part of those in the building had made their way to safety when the front walls of the structure gave way, crushing those near the exit.

The dead:

BRIGHAM McCANN, rancher, Turner, Idaho.

MEAT RATES ARE ORDERED REVISED BY COMMISSION

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A revision of rates on meat products from packing houses located on and west of the Mississippi river to Eastern territory, was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission to become effective April 20.

The Commission's decision reversed a finding made in 1926 as to the western meat rates and resulted from a re-investigation.

The key to the new schedule lies in the fixing of a rate on fresh meat from St. Louis to the East, which shall be 8 cents per 100 pounds above like rates from Chicago. The St. Louis rate will determine the charge to be made from all packing centers on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

From Wichita, Kans., to the East the commission prescribed a rate of 37 cents above St. Louis from Oklahoma City 43 cents and from Fort Worth 54 cents.

The men believed dead were vagrants, seen by trainmen on the bridge before the crash. No trainmen were hurt. The flames were being fought under extremely precarious circumstances, it was said.

The bridge was destroyed.

Seventeen of the cars which fell from the bridge were filled with gasoline.

Loss will approximate $100,000, trainmen said. Traffic on the line was completely tied up.

ROGERS HORNISBY MADE DEFENDANT IN $70,075 SUIT

By Associated Press.

St. Louis, Jan. 27.—Frank L. Moore, horse racing betting commissioner of Newport, Ky., today filed suit for $70,075 against Rogers Hornisby, former manager of the world's champion St. Louis Cardinals.

Moore lists eleven separate items in his petition, including a total of $26,000 shown as advanced by him to Mrs. Hornisby on her husband's notes, but he does not state the purpose for which he allegedly advanced the various sums, ranging from $850 to $18,000.

Last Saturday, however, Moore declared to reporters he had bet $7,000 on horse races for the baseball star last January and February. Part of the claim against Hornisby was asserted, respectively, on racing bets which Hornisby placed with Moore and did not pay.

The former Cardinal Manager, now captain of the New York Giants, has denied owing Moore any money.

FEES COLLECTED FROM STUDENTS OF SCHOOLS DISCUSSED

Austin, Texas, Jan. 25.—Fees collected from students of all State elementary and educational institutions would be placed directly in the State Treasury and their expenditure controlled by the legislature in a bill submitted Tuesday by Senator I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin. He said he would "like to prevent these institutions from charging such high fees, but as this cannot be done, I regard this as the next best step."

In a flareback to the sharpest fight of the session, the Senate voted endorsement on "fair and reasonable" State inheritance taxes as a "just and democratic method of securing revenue."

The resolution was introduced by Tom Love of Dallas, who recently lost a four-hour fight to have the Senate refuse to concur in a House resolution asking Texas Congressmen to aid in attempting repeal of the national inheritance tax.

Love Tuesday declared he sought passage of the simple resolution because the action of the Senate in passing the House concurrent resolution may be regarded by the people as "a stain of disengagement on inheritance taxes."

Goldbrook of Galveston, who fought Love's successful resolution, finally changed his vote from no to aye, with the statement that he expects to attempt reconsideration and its eventual defeat.

Fund Created for Experts.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 25.—The House today finally passed the Senate bill carrying a $5,000 supplemental appropriation for the governor's fund to be used in murder cases.

The bill by Senator Wood was passed in the Senate late yesterday. It does not refer specifically to the Engler case, involving the unsolved violent deaths of Mr. and Mrs. William Engler and their adopted daughter, Emma, two years ago, but provides that the money may be used to secure out-of-state expert testimony for both prosecution and defense.

Representative Barron, sponsoring the measure in the House, explained that grand juries and peace officers of Travis county are working on a theory expected to pin down perpetrators of the crime if further operations are properly financed.

Committee action of the Rung-Ston bill to require overhead of underpass railroad crossings for highways, may be expected this week, it was said today.

CONTRACT CLOSED FOR PRODUCTION OF GIGANTIC PAGEANT

Special to the Sun.
Tyler, Texas, Jan. 26.—Contract has been closed for the production of the gigantic pageant which will be presented at the first annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, to be held here April 20 and 21. One of the largest producing companies in the country will furnish competent directors and costumes for the 400 East Texans who will take part in the pageant, which will be written around the story of East Texas and San Jacinto Day. The directors are expected to spend several weeks here preparing the participants for their roles.

R. B. Still, chairman of the pageant committee and will select the historian who will write the outline for the pageant, and also any other sub-committees which may be found necessary in preparing for the production.

Orders for convention badges, with gold bar and ribbons, have been placed, and they are expected to reach here by April 1. The insert cards, on which will be written delegations names will be here by March 1.

The general committee on arrangements for the convention met recently and appointed Gerty Connelly chairman of the finance and registration committee, with C. J. Brogan, Abe Pounds, J. C. Fohmar, H. L. Caton and O. M. Boron as his co-workers.

Plans for other entertainment features of the annual meeting, in addition to the pageant, are going forward. These plans include the holding of mass band concerts and mass singing. It is expected that definite announcements concerning these features will be made shortly.

The housing committee is working out several methods of caring for the thousands who will invade the city during the two days of the convention. While plans have not been perfected, the committee gives assurance that ample provision will be made for everyone.

DRY WING OF PARTY ENDEAVORING TO GET LEADER LINED UP

By Associated Press.

New York, Jan. 25.—William G. McAdoo, who has said he is in New York on legal business, has been visited at his hotel by friends from several states, who have urged him to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president.

These friends are declared to have based their pleas on the argument that Mr. McAdoo's leadership is essential to assure success for the efforts of the "dry and progressive" elements of the party.

A plan of campaign also is said to have been talked over.

The Times says that while nothing definite concerning whether he again would consent to seek the nomination could be had from Mr. McAdoo, the general impression of those who talked with him was that he would.

Major John S. Cohen, National Committeeman from Georgia; Austin E. McCallough, former state chairman of Pennsylvania, and Bernard M. Baruch, financial, are among those who have visited Mr. McAdoo.

It is asserted that the first attack in the McAdoo campaign, if he decides to become a candidate, will be upon the two-thirds vote rule which it has been claimed prevents the nomination of Mr. McAdoo in 1924.

RECIPES FOR CANNING BEEF GIVEN BY NAVARRO COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Due to the great number of recipes for canning beef the home demonstration agent, Miss Elma Lawson, finds it impossible to give personal instruction in all cases. Therefore, that every person may receive full details concerning beef canning Miss Lawson has written a recipe and has given it for publication. The recipe is as follows:

Canning Beef

Meat should be canned only during the colder months. The weather should be about the same as is chosen for hog killing.

The animal should be killed, dressed, and quartered at least a day before it is to be canned. The quarters should be hung in a clean place so that the meat becomes thoroughly chilled.

The meat is usually cut into roasts (plain and rolled) steaks, and stew meat. The scraps are used for meat loaf. The plain roasts should be cut so that when they are partially cooked they will just slip into the cans. As there is considerable shrinkage in this partial cooking it will mean that they should be cut about a fourth larger than the cans. The muscle fiber should run lengthwise of the piece of meat so that when it is turned out of the can and served it may be sliced across the grain.

The steaks should be cut across the grain of the round and shoulder and should not be less than three-fourths of an inch thick. The larger ones may be made into rolled roasts by rolling them tightly and tying with a twine cord. The tougher and more scrappy parts of the beef may be cut in one and a half or two inch cubes for stew or ground for hash or chili. The bones may be cooked in a wash kettle with water for several hours. The meat will drop off the bones and the concentrated liquid make good soup stock.

Clean Cans Thoroughly

The cans should be washed, rinsed thoroughly and turned to drain. The paper gasket lids should not be put in water as the paper will become loosened. They should be wiped with a damp cloth and placed in a warming oven until ready to use.

Before placing the meat in the cans it is necessary for the outside surface to be seared. This is usually done in the following manner: Salt, pepper and flour the meat, then sear in hot fat on top of the stove until brown enough for the table. This cooking will be done rapidly and the meat will not be done except on the outside surface. This use of salt does not coincide with the established rules for cooking meat, but if the meat is not seasoned before it goes into the cans it acquires a flat taste which is very difficult to remedy after it is opened. The flour and hot fat prevent the juices from being drawn from the meat by the salt and the prolonged cooking pressure counteracts the toughening effect. The flour holds the juices in the meat and makes it brown more quickly. The steaks and roasts should be packed firmly into the cans and a large spoonful of brown gravy added to each can. It is not necessary to entirely fill the can with gravy or other liquid.

Seal Cans Securely

The cans should be sealed as soon as they are packed. Meat may be canned in either number two or number three cans. Number two cans should be processed in the steam pressure cooker for 40 minutes at fifteen pounds pressure. Number three cans should be processed fifty minutes at fifteen pounds pressure.

When the cans of meat are taken from the cooker they should be placed one at a time in a tub of cold water. If the seal is not perfect small bubbles of steam will rise to the surface. The ends of some of the cans will be bulged out from the pressure of steam. As they cool they will shrink back into place with a popping noise. The cans of meat should be thoroughly dried and kept in a cool place. After about two weeks they should be inspected to see if there are any cans with bulging ends. This is an indication that the meat is not keeping and such cans should be removed at once.

Recipes

Roast—Cut roast into pieces as large as will go into can. Roll each piece in flour to which salt and pepper have been added. Sear in hot fat, pack into cans, add one table spoon of brown gravy or fat and seal. Process number three cans fifty minutes at fifteen pounds pressure.

Rolled Roast—For rolled roast use the flank and the sheet of meat which can be stripped from the top of the ribs, or round or shoulder steak. Cut these steaks into strips as wide as the length of the can and long enough so when rolled up and tied the roasts will fit the can.

Place these strips on the table and spread about one half inch thick with ground meat. For No. 3 cans of meat sprinkle over this about three tsp. salt, 2 tsp. sugar, 4 tsp. cracker crumbs, 1 small onion chopped, and sage if liked.

Roll as for jelly roll, tie the roast at the top and bottom so it will fit the can. Sear over as for roast, pack in cans and add gravy. Process as for other No. 3 cans (fifty minutes at fifteen pounds pressure.) Do not fail to add the sugar as it gives the meat an excellent flavor.

Steak—Cut into pieces one and a half or two inches thick. Flour as for roast. Sear in pan of deep hot fat. Roll and pack. Add gravy or fat. Seal can and process.

Stew—Cut meat in cubes one and a half or two inches. Brown like

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL.

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns. WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions in forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one-half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 8.

Under the revenue act of 1926 the maximum amount which may be claimed as earned income, to which a credit of 25 per cent applies, is increased from $10,000 to $20,000. To claim this credit on the tax due on net income in excess of $5,000, the income must actually be earned as "wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services."

In computing the earned income credit, the surtax, which applies to income in excess of $10,000, is taken into consideration for the first time under the revenue act of 1926. The tax on an earned net income of $20,000 is computed in the case of a married man without dependents as follows:

Net income ..... $20,000.00
Less personal exemption 3,500.00

Balance, taxable ..... 16,500.00

1 1/2 per cent tax on first $1,000 ..... 60.00

3 per cent on the second $1,000 ..... 120.00

5 per cent tax on remaining $8,500 ..... 425.00

Surtax on net income of $20,000 ..... 220.00

Total normal and surtax ..... 825.00

Less 25 per cent of $825, earned income credit ..... 206.25

Balance of tax payable ..... 618.75

The surtax rates apply to net income in excess of $10,000. The maximum surtax rate is now reduced to 20 per cent, which applies to net income in excess of $100,000, instead of a maximum rate of 40 per cent on net incomes in excess of $50,000, as was provided by the revenue act of 1924.

No. 9.

In computing the tax on earned net income, consideration is given to the taxpayer engaged in trade or business in which both capital and personal service are material income-producing factors. The revenue act of 1926 provides in such cases that a "reasonable allowance for personal service" shall be considered as earned income. Such allowance is not to exceed 20 per cent of the taxpayer's share of the net profits of such trade or business. For example, a taxpayer received in 1926 from a business in which both personal services and capital are material income-producing factors, a net profit of $30,000. The 25 per cent credit is computed on 20 per cent of $30,000, or $6,000. The amount payable is the tax on $30,000, less 25 per cent of the tax on $6,000.

The earned income credit is allowed members of a partnership, whose credit applying to the share of the net income belonging to each which consists of earned income. Where, as in the case of an individual taxpayer, capital and personal service are both material income-producing factors, a 20 per cent limitation applies. In such cases the salaries paid a part

GREENVILLE GIVES UP BASEBALL WHEN DIRECTORS MEET

By Associated Press.

Greenville, Texas, Jan. 27.—Greenville has dropped from the East Texas Baseball League.

A statement from the directors, who met here yesterday, said they would not attempt to operate the club the coming season. Greenville has been in organized baseball the last six years.

Greenville, Texas, Jan. 27.—Following the receipt of notice of a call for a meeting of the East Texas League and the Texas Association in Tyler next Sunday, at which time the clubs of the circuit that desire to remain in baseball will be required to deposit $1,000 as a forfeit, directors of the Greenville baseball club on Wednesday said a statement, addressed to the Greenville fans in which they declare they will not attempt to continue baseball in this city this year.

"We are ready to turn over the baseball franchise and the assets of the club to any one who can show us the proper financial backing to operate a club here this year, if there is any one who will attempt it," the statement says. "We feel that we have already given baseball all of the time and attention we care to, and we desire to be relieved of the responsibility."

President Sam Taylor of the Greenville club was directed to notify President T. H. Fisher of Paris, president of the East Texas League, of the action taken.

It could not be learned Wednesday whether other interests would attempt to take over the club and operate it.

MEMORIES OF LONG SERVICE OF NAVARRO PIONEER RECALLED

R. M. McMullan was born near Old Point Town, Schley county, Georgia, on March 24, 1846. Died at his home near Chatfield, Texas, on November 12, 1926, aged 80 years, 7 months and 18 days.

At the age of twelve he was converted and united with the M. E. church, South, and proved himself a good soldier of Jesus Christ, always responding to roll call and meeting gladly the many demands of the church upon his time, his talents and his money. In the war between the States, he enlisted in Company B, 22nd Georgia Heavy Artillery, and among the thousands of gallant men who wore the gray, none were braver or more true to the cause for which they fought than was R. M. McMullan. His company was with Gen. Joseph E. Johnson when he surrendered in 1865. Returning to his home in Georgia he attended school at Oglethorpe Academy for one year, when he was married to Miss Mattie Gaines on September 26, 1866.

Leaving Georgia with his bride they moved to Texas and settled near Chatfield, Navarro county, where he spent the remainder of his long and useful life. Under the ministry of Rev. Aiken he united with the Chatfield church in 1869, and gave to that church 57 years of loyal service. For over half a century he served this church as steward and Sunday School superintendent.

This writer in the fall of 1891 was read out to the Rice and Chatfield circuit and remained with the charge four years. My first sermon on the charge was preached at Chatfield and at that time I first met Brother McMullan. When I first looked into his manly face I was sure I had met a noble Christian gentleman. During the more than 35 years of knowing and loving him I never found one moment changed my first convictions of R. M. McMullan's genuine Christian character. He was one of God's noblemen. He was well born, well bred, and sweetly saved and kept by the grace of God. All who knew him loved and honored him. Call the roll of the pastors who have served the church since he left the pulpit.

Golden Text.—In that he himself had suffered, being tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted. —Heb. 2:18.

(Text is from the American Standard Edition of the Revised Bible, copyright, 1901, by Thomas Nelson & Sons, and used by permission.)

Among the Jews, when Jesus began His ministry, there were two ideas of the course which he was expected to pursue. By far the most popular and the one held by nearly everybody was the idea that the Messiah would establish a great kingdom, overthrow the Romans and re-establish the throne of David. The other idea was held by a very few and is nowhere elaborated in the New Testament writings except by Jesus himself. It was that the Messiah came to establish a spiritual kingdom, to establish the rule of God in the hearts of men.

It is in my mind that Jesus faced the choice between these two courses at the beginning of his ministry. When he was baptized by John and the voice from heaven proclaimed "This is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased," I suspected the Chatfield charge for the past 57 years and they will all say that they found in R. M. McMullan an Israelite in whom there was no guile.

To Bro. McMullan and the bride of his early years were born ten children. Three of the children Robert Stewart, Hiram Norris and Lucy, with the Mother, Mattie A. McMullan, went before the father to the heavenly home. Sister McMullan died November 25, 1893. What a glad reunion when the mother and the three children welcomed the father at the Gates of Pearl.

Two sons, M. J. and Carl, and five daughters, Mrs. J. H. Holsey, Mrs. A. L. Huffman, Mrs. J. W. Wright, Mrs. W. P. Thorn and Mrs. Gordon Elkins live to mourn the loss of as good a father as God ever gave to any group of children. R. M. McMullan is a husband, father, neighbor and friend measured up to the very best. As a Christian he lived above reproach and ever shone as a light in the world for God. He lived well, he died well. The sun of his life went down in a cloudless sky in his own home, surrounded by his loved ones, sweetly as a child would fall asleep in its mother's arms, he pillow'd his head upon the precious promise of God and fell asleep in Jesus to awake among the white robes in glory. May it be the happy lot of all who loved him here to join him on some bright tomorrow in the home of the pure and the good.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for January 30, 1927.
Read Luke 4.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

THE CHRISTIAN OVERCOMING TEMPTATION

Luke 4: 1-13; 1 Cor. 10: 12, 13.

Luke 4: 1. And Jesus full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led in the Spirit into the wilderness.

2. During forty days, being tempted of the devil. And he did eat nothing in those days; and when they were completed, he hungered.

3. And the devil said unto him,

If thou art the son of God, command this stone that it become bread.

4. And Jesus answered unto him,

It is written, Man shall not live

by bread alone.

5. And he led him up, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6. And the devil said unto him,

To thee will I give all this authority, and the glory of them; for it hath been delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will give it.

7. And then therefore will worship before me, it shall be thine.

8. And Jesus answered and said unto him, It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9. And he led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence;

10. For it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee,

to guard thee;

11. And, On their hands they shall bear thee up, Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12. And Jesus, answering, said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not make trial of the Lord thy God.

13. And when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from him for a season.

Then he viewed the other road and realized how futile would be the attempt to explain His real mission, the spiritual mission, the real relationship of man and God. His doctrine of love and service. Along this road there were no bright lights; he saw his following falling away. He saw himself abandoned and reviled and He saw the cross at the end of the journey.

We are not willing to think that Jesus hesitated between the two courses before Him. He says he was tempted by the Devil to remain without food or drink for forty days. Not for a moment did

He hesitate.

When Jesus reappeared and he can His teaching and to gather together His followers, He was calm and serene. No more was there temptation. His course was ira-reducibly decided. He followed that course to the end.

Early in this ministry He laid down his platform. He gave us the constitution and the by-laws of the Christian religion. This we have more completely than anywhere else in the Sermon on the Mount.

I do not think this was all given at one time but that it was, perhaps, fragmentary and collected by the winters after His death. Even today men scorn the idea and sneer at these teachings as entirely impractical and unworkable in a world where the common idea is every man for himself and the Devil take the hindmost.

SEVERAL BILLS PASSED BE-

BODY DELAYED IN ARRIVING FROM VERNON ON AC-COUNT OF WRECK

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 26.—Because of the great load of committee work which it has to do, the Senate again got off easy, recessed until Thursday morning after a ten-hour session.

Committees on criminal jurisdiction, civil jurisdiction, labor, educational affairs, and agricultural districts, were called to order following the recess.

A little important work is expected on the upper house until Governor Hobby has appointed the third member of the Highway Committee and he has sent up the names of R. L. Clegg, Houston, for chairman of the committee, and Eddie Johnson, Tyler, member for confirmation.

This finally passed today, including five to correct errors in the codification of civil statutes by Ward; exempting requests to religious, educational, or charitable organizations from State inheritance tax, by Hollbrook.

Handley sent half an hour working on a concurrent resolution by Love of Dallas, memorializing Congress to pass the Haig-McNary farm relief bill. The resolution passed, and a bill designed by Love to provide that employees on State work cannot come to work more than eight hours per day was engrossed.

House Committees Busy.
By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, Jan. 26.—With the house scheduled to resume session at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon committees were working on several major bills with small prospect of reports until later in the week.

An intensive study of the bill to raise the State gasoline tax from one to three cents a gallon, is being made by a sub-committee of highway and motor traffic committee.

The common carriers committee today worked on the bill requiring 100 crews for railroad trains.

IN AUTO FATALITIES FIRST FOUR WEEKS.

SIX CITIES REPORTED NO
AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES
THIS YEAR

Special to the Sun.
Washington, Jan. 25.—The Department of Commerce announces that during the four weeks ending January 1, 1927, automobile accidents were responsible for 521 deaths in 78 large cities of the United States. The majority of these deaths were the result of accidents which occurred within the corporate limits of the city, although some accidents occurred outside of the city limits. This number (521) compares with 551 deaths during the four weeks ending January 2, 1926.

Considering simply the numbers of deaths by four-week periods since May, 1925, the lowest total (350) appears for the four-week period ending March 27, 1926, and the highest (676) for the four-week period ending November 6, 1926. The numbers in the 22 periods of four weeks were as follows:

Four Weeks Ending:

January 1, 1927	521
December 4, 1926	634
October 9, 1926	636
September 11, 1926	560
August 14, 1926	497
July 17, 1926	484
June 19, 1926	594
May 22, 1926	487
April 24, 1926	421
March 27, 1926	550
February 27, 1926	578
January 30, 1925	434
January 2, 1925	551
December 5, 1925	625
November 7, 1925	612
October 10, 1925	529
September 12, 1925	531
August 15, 1925	663
July 18, 1925	495
June 20, 1925	492
May 23, 1925	421

Six cities reported no automobile fatalities for the last four months, while four cities reported no automobile fatalities for the corresponding period of 1925.

For the last four-week period reports have been received from 66 of the 78 cities as to whether the fatal automobile accidents occurred inside or outside city limits. In these 66 cities in this four-week period, the total number of automobile fatalities was 411, but only 291 of these were due to accidents within city limits.

STANDS READY NEGOTIATE TREATY WITH RESPON- SIBLE PARTIES

By Associated Press.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Assurance that the Washington government is ready to enter into treaty revision negotiations with both the Cantonese and Northern factions in the present civil war were given at the State Department today in amplifying the formal statement of American attitude toward China published last night by Secretary Kellogg.

The body was originally scheduled to have arrived in Corsicana Wednesday morning but the train out of Vernon beyond Wichita Falls was delayed due to a wreck and the body arrived on the Southern Pacific train at 1 o'clock Thursday morning.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO SEMI-WEEKLY LIGHT
COME IN RAPIDLY

The number of subscriptions received to the Semi-Weekly Morning Light during the present year have been far ahead of the same date last year, due in part, no doubt, to the very liberal offer made to farmers taking four pounds of good ginned cotton for one year's subscription to the Light. However, there have been many who paid the cash for their subscriptions, as usual.

The unusual offer of twenty-five cents per pound for cotton when the staple was selling below ten cents per pound brought a heavy response and each person who secured the Light for one year in this manner stated that they appreciated the offer and felt that the management of the Light were doing a very great favor in making such a liberal subscription offer.

The cotton subscription offer will be withdrawn on February 1st as previously announced, it was stated yesterday, and no more cotton will be taken. However, the Light's subscription list, already large, has been increased heavily by this plan.

Mississippi Lady Says She Took Black-Draught for These Symptoms and Was "Greatly Relieved."

Starkey, Miss.—"I have been a user of Black-Draught for about twenty years," says Mrs. C. E. Bunting, of R. D. 5, this city.

"I used Black-Draught first for constipation," continues Mrs. Bunting. "I would feel dull, stupid, and have severe headaches, even feverish. I had an uneasy, tight feeling in my stomach.

"I read quite a bit about Black-Draught. I began using it and soon my bowels acted regularly and I was greatly relieved. I used it every once in a while for about eighteen years.

"About two years ago I found I was having indigestion, a tight smothering in my chest, then severe pain, especially after eating sweets. I commenced taking just a pinch of Black-Draught after meals and by doing this I could eat about anything.

"I gave Black-Draught to my children for colds and headaches. I can certainly recommend it."

Thedford's Black-Draught is recommended by thousands of others for the relief of indigestion, biliousness and simple ailments due to constipation. Safe, easy to take. Costs only 1 cent a dose. NC-171

SOIL IMPROVEMENT TRAIN COTTON BELT VISITED CORSICANA

The special train known as the Soil Improvement train of the St. Louis-Southwestern Lines, consisting of three coaches, two of them fully equipped exhibit cars, arrived in Corsicana at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning and was on the side tracks in Corsicana until Wednesday noon. The train is on a tour of the State in the interest of a soil-building program which the agricultural department of the company has been fostering for some time.

Johnson would succeed George Robertson and would serve four years.

The names were referred to the committee on governor's nominations and likely will not be acted on until the third commissioner is named. All indications are the will be confirmed without a dissenting vote.

Cato Sells of Fort Worth is here and has been mentioned as the third highway commissioner.

A delegation of West Texas representatives and Homer Wade manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, asked that the third commissioner be from West Texas.

Representative E. S. Cummings of Abilene said the delegation asked that the third commissioner "come from within a 100 mile radius of Sweetwater."

Governor Moody is said to have asked the delegation if a Fort Worth man would be acceptable, and to have received the answer he would "if he had the interests of West Texas at heart."

Statistics quoted on the train were that there is a ratio in the United States of washing of plant food from the land as compared with the plant food used by the crops of 126.

Legumes Demonstrated

Charts showed the ratio of soil contents and fertilizers needed. The planting of legumes for fertilizing purposes was dealt with at length. It was pointed out that hairy and purple vetch, bur and sweet clover are good crops to plant in the winter.

Guar, a variety of legumes, is especially good for black land, especially that infested with root-rot. This is perhaps the only legume that will thrive where root-rot is prevalent. Cowpeas were recommended for sandy lands.

The raising of hogs and milch cows to use the surplus feed crops was stressed, those in charge of the train pointing out the finer points to be noted in the selection of cows and hogs.

The legumes as hay crops was stressed in that the crops can be pastured and then cut for hay as well as fertilizing the lands. It was stated that one bale of legumes was worth as much as three bales of grass for a milch cow.

A chart dealing with rotation as conducted at the experiment stations showed that the yield on corn, cotton, wheat and cowpeas doubled the yield of planting the same crop on land for eight years in succession. The ratio was carried out without the use of fertilizer in either instance.

Barn Yard Fertilizer.

Another thing stressed is the using of barn-yard fertilizer. Charts showing the value of this fertilizer to the soil was shown. It was shown that soil will hold only one-fourth to one-eighth as much water as barn-yard and other fertilizers.

The fertilizing value of cotton burns at gins or thrown away was stressed.

"Soils which have good organic content may be cultivated much more easily than those lacking it," said P. H. Walser, Cotton Belt agricultural agent who was in charge of the train.

The train left Corsicana at noon and Frost and will be in Hillsboro Thursday.

Despite the inclement weather conditions, numbers of persons availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the train here Wednesday and acquainting themselves of the work being done by the railroad officials.

Those with the train included P. H. Walser, agricultural agent of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway Company with headquarters at Tyler; E. R. Eudaly, extension service husbandman of A. & M. College; A. E. Miller, extension agronomist, A. & M. College; C. O. Rawlins, horticultural agent of the Cotton Belt; Col. C. C. French, industrial agent of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company.

FATE OF PREACHER
BE IN HANDS JURY
BEFORE 5 O'CLOCK

By Associated Press.

Court House, Austin, Tex., Jan. 25.—The trial of the Rev. Frank Norris for slaying D. E. Chipps at Fort Worth last July rapidly approached its conclusion late today, with indications the case would be in the hands of the jury before 5 o'clock.

The court room was packed when the trial was resumed after noon recess. The crowd was the greatest of the trial and so overflowed the room that the lawyers were unable to find seats when they entered. Judge James R. Hamilton ordered spectators to stand back and asked others to leave who had taken seats in the press box.

White Opens for Defense.
By Associated Press.

Court Room, Austin, Texas, Jan. 25.—Attorney Isaac D. White of Austin, representing the defense, opened the argument today for Dr. J. Frank Norris in the latter's trial for the killing of Dexter E. Chipps.

White charged that the prosecution had "persecuted, not prosecuted" Norris. He compared the influence of Norris through his church and Sunday School with that of Chipps, the slain man.

"Way back in 1922 Chipps said he was going to start a graveyard and put Frank Norris in it." Chipps that early, had malice in his heart against this minister of the gospel.

"Then we find him telling Fred Holland, a policeman, that he was going to kill this preacher and he cursed Dr. Norris and he had a pistol that night. There was ranking in his breast a hatred for Dr. Norris.

"Through it all Chipps showed malice and bitved toward Dr. Norris. Yesterday the State's representatives, or misrepresentatives, didn't tell you about this. They didn't tell you that Chipps was drunk on the day he went to Norris' office. They want to draw you away to minor considerations.

"Did Chipps go to Norris on a peaceful mission? Didn't he tell Meacham he was going down and stop Norris or 'I'll kill him?' And if that was not true, why didn't the State deny it? Why didn't Meacham get on this witness stand and deny it?

Didn't Go to Church to Pray.

"Chipps went to the church to get Norris, but God knows he was not going there to pray; he wasn't going there to serve his Master. He rushed in without knocking to get at this man who was laboring there for the good of the world.

"Who has got a right to come to your place of business and warn you not to conduct that business as you please, when you are right? Norris had a right to say 'Get out of here' to show this messenger of hate the door.

"The State of Texas doesn't demand that a man run away and whine when he is approached. These fellows who are here persecuting this defendant say it, but they know better.

"Dr. Norris didn't retract when this interloper, Chipps, demanded it. If he had, he would have been a white-livered coward."

Moore Follows White.

District Attorney J. D. Moore of Travis county followed White for the State. He referred to the varying accounts of the crucifixion of Christ, declaring there were bound to be discrepancies in testimony in a murder trial.

"When you say a man, who has imbibed too freely, must be shot down in a twinkling, swept to eternity, without a chance to save himself, we blasphemy him, we distract his body in its grave, though he may have gone down unhonored and unsung," said Moore.

"Whatever may have been said of deceased that cankered his soul, it cannot be said that he was not a true friend. Sometimes we may go too far in our friendships. Possibly Chipps did. When you believe your friends have been maligned and persecuted, it is natural to be aroused in their behalf.

"When our State has permitted men's bodies and souls to be saturated by liquor, as it did under licensed saloons, is it not our part as Christians to reach our hands out and be the Good Samaritan? If it is an excuse, if it is a defense, under the law for the defendant to take a man's life, because he was drunk and because he threatened him, then the court would not have given you the instructions he did.

"If a man is threatened the law provides a means for his protection."

Moore compared the testimony of L. H. Nett and Mrs. Roxie Parker, eyewitnesses, pointing out that Nett's testimony may have been colored by his close friendship for Norris.

Dayton Moses Speaks.

At noon recess, legal arguments had two and a half hours to run, indicating that the jury would have the case by 4:30 p. m. Attorney Dayton Moses took up the final argument for Dr. Norris at Dr. Norris at 11:25 a. m., and spoke until recess at 12:30 p. m.

Mr. Moses declared the chief motive inspiring the State's case was the alleged hate harbored by special prosecuting attorneys against Norris.

"Bill McLean hates Dr. Norris with all the intensity that an American citizen can hate another," Moses said.

Norris appeared to weep frequently during arguments, especially when Moses referred to the pastor's two young sons at his side. Some reference had been made by the prosecution to the sons as "exhibits."

"Gentlemen, is this man to be condemned because in this darkest hour of his life these sons cling to his side?" asked Moses.

Says Meacham's Gold Used.
Moses declared that "the gold of Meacham, the mystery man, threads itself all through this case." He mentioned the "eight hired counsel of the prosecution" whom Mayor H. C. Meacham said he had contracted to pay $18,500 in fees to prosecute Norris. Moses dwelt on the fact that Meacham shook hands with Chipps when the latter said he was going to stop Norris or kill him. On that occasion, according to the evidence, Meacham said, "Good-ye, if you need me, call me."

"I, too, once shook hands with a man in New York," said Moses.

"He was my oldest son. He was going away to war. I kissed him good-bye. I didn't know whether

I would ever see him again. Men living in the same city, seeing each other every day, don't shake hands good-bye unless there is a dangerous mission ahead."

"Meacham sent Chipps on that fatal mission. He and his gold are what are back of this prosecution."

"The State does not expect you to send this man to the penitentary. They'll be happy if one man on this jury votes against

"Do what you will, but those thousands of church members of his will cling to him still."

Attorney Moses drew a parallel between the "persecution" of Martin Luther and that which he said was being heaped on Norris.
